

The Association of Psychologists of Nova Scotia (APNS)

- Builds psychological collegiality by fostering a sense of community among all who identify with psychology.
- Educates by organizing and facilitating workshops for psychologists and information sessions for the public.
- Advocates to government, employers, media and the public on matters affecting public health policy.
- Makes submissions to government on legislation that may have impact on the practice of psychology and in the interest of the public good.
- Maintains affiliations with the Canadian Psychological Association, the Council of Professional Associations of Psychologists, and the American Psychological Association.

Student Membership Opportunity

Students can now join APNS for FREE! Take advantage of all the benefits of membership, including discounted workshop and webinar rates, without the cost of membership.

Student rates for workshops & webinars

Workshop registration $50

Webinar registration $25

For student groups of 4 or more, students save an additional $25 each.

Contact the current student rep Grace for more info apns@apns.ca.

Why Become an APNS Student Member?

- Publish your research in the APNS newsletter where it will be shared with Registered Psychologists.
- Discounted rates for workshops and webinars.
- Transition to career:
 - Network with experienced registered psychologists in various areas of practice.
 - Find mentors in private or public practice.
- Have a say in programming.
 - Offer suggestions for workshops and webinars.
- Have your voice heard on issues related to Psychology in Nova Scotia.
 - Become a student rep on the Executive Board, or sit on sub-committees to learn about, discuss and have input on the latest issues surrounding advocacy, cultural diversity and private practice. APNS volunteers receive credits which may be applied against membership and workshop fees.
- Subscription to the APNS newsletter the Nova Scotia Psychologist and Member Update bi-monthly E-blast.

Eligibility: Students enrolled full-time in a graduate or undergraduate psychology program in a Nova Scotia academic institution. Only grad students may sit on the Executive Committee, but grad and undergrad may sit on sub-committees, such as advocacy, cultural diversity and private practice.

What's Upcoming: Workshops/Webinars/EventsAPNS offers several workshops and webinars each year.

- Upcoming workshops:
 - June 9th 2023 – Applying DBT Principles to Therapy <https://tinyurl.com/56ypdw2u>
 - Fall 2023 - Understanding Culture & the Impact of Trauma
 - Fall 2023: JEDI issues in ethical decision-making
 - Various Cultural Competency and Ethics workshops are presented regularly
- APNS partners with APA to offer webinars on various topics throughout the year.
 - April 28th 2023 - Attachment-based Family Therapy for Adolescents <https://tinyurl.com/2p8ccmpy>
 - Past webinars addressed the DSM-5-TR and Motivations of Mass Attackers
- Student Awards Nominations by academic supervisor; deadline April 10th, 2023.
 - Undergraduate and graduate student prizes and bursary. <https://tinyurl.com/3mdtez8j>

CONTACT INFORMATION

Title: Dr Ms Mx Mr Name:

Mailing Address:

Postal Code:

Social Media Acct:

Phone (W):

(H):

Cell:

E- Mail:

MEMBERSHIP STATUS

Category - Student Member:

I am enrolled full-time in an academic institution and employed less than 50% of the year (internships & practica exempt).

I am a grad student: or I am an undergrad student:

At what university:

Graduate/Undergrad Student fee - NOW FREE

APNS members receive a quarterly newsletter e-mailed as a downloadable link and a bi-monthly E-mail Update and occasional emails on internal and external notifications, CE workshops, webinars, and other opportunities.

Complete and email this form to apns@apns.ca. Or call 902-422-9183 or e-mail for more information.

Date:

Signature:

APNS, Suite 645, 5991 Spring Garden Rd., Halifax, NS B3H 1Y6
P: (902) 422-9183 F: 902-462-9801 E: apns@apns.ca